The Bones

1942 on ice, living life, black and white
City lights eradiates through the fog in the night

Penthouse light, when I live I do it right
Fucking right, fuck a second chance
I indulge in decadence
Marble floors, double doors, matching capes with castle walls
On the beach, on the shore, watching for the stars fall
People change, human strands
It's dope, it's all I truly know
If you find stairs that led your dream, would you truly go?

1942 on ice, living life, black and white
City lights eradiates through the fog in the night

Rollin' rich, diamond neck
And wit' cusps with baguettes
Every city screamin' SESH
Till they muthafuckin' rest
Only thing I trust and believe
Is a team I'm with, nothing less
BONES
SESH

1942 on ice, living life, black and white
