

Today Tomorrow Too Long Too Late

The BossHoss

Since I left, I feel right
And I'm high
And down below him lies
'Cause the more we try
The less we fly
Well I close my eyes
I see you through your disguise

The more I give
The less I can take
The lower I feel
The higher the stakes

Today, tomorrow, too long, too late
I'm sorry, babe
Too much to blame, to low our aim
It's such a shame

The more I learn
The less I know
The higher I reach
The lower I go
Today, tomorrow, too long, too late
I'm sorry, babe
Too small the gain
Too much the pain
It's such a shame

Look ahead, don't look back
Don't hesitate or turn
On a one way track
'Cause the more we run
The less we move on
So let go, baby
Don't you think so?

'Cause the more you get
The less you can share
The more I could have
The less I care

Today, tomorrow, too long, too late
I'm sorry, babe
Too much in vain
Too low the flame
It is such a shame
Well the more we discuss
The less we agree
The more we look
The less we can see

The more we discern
The less we're the same
The less we agree
The more we gain
The deeper our faith
The higher the wall

The harder the bang
The softer the fall

Today, tomorrow, too long, too late
I am sorry, babe
Too small the gain, too much the pain
Yeah it's such a shame
Say, today, tomorrow, too long, too late
I am sorry, babe
And too much to say
Too less to play
It is so passé
