

New Day

The Bouncing Souls

People tell me they wake up everyday wondering if they'll be here tomorrow.

I say live for today.

Cuz everything you have is just borrowed.

No progress made just sittin' around

Tv's selling bullshit by the pound

Things stay the same are you afraid to ask why?

Fight To Live! or are you waiting to die?

Changes coming our way!

Just like a new day.

These borrowed days they come and go

We live on, reaping what we sow

Terror from the darkness of our minds

the self-destruction of mankind

and we'd all like to see some change

But the shit, it falls like rain

We sit and watch the world turn grey

What's the point here anyway?

Changes coming our way

Just like a new day
