Cuddle Me

The Boy Least Likely To

Cuddle me, cuddle me
Close my eyes and let me sleep
I saw things in the darkness that I didn't want to see
Smother me, smother me
Squeeze the air out of my cheeks
Pump me full of chemicals and put me back to sleep
Pump me full of chemicals
I want to go to sleep
Cuddle me, cuddle me
Wear my heart upon your sleeve
Wrap me up in cotton wool and rock me off to sleep
I'm feeling homesick and I'm covered in seaweed
Washed up in the sunshine on an oily pebble beach
Rock me and roll me back in to the sea
Over broken seashells so I can go to sleep
Cuddle me, cuddle me
Close my eyes and let me sleep
I saw things in the darkness that I didn't want to see
I hurt the things I love because it stops them hurting me
