Rites of Spring

The Bravery

You're the women who made me a man I was down you taught me to stand

I was made up of nothing
You put something inside
You opened my chest
And put that hurt in my eyes
Now I've got pain that I can turn to
When I wonder if I'm still alive

I was dead in the water
That left me dead in the water

I was made of nothing You put your hands on my heart Stained your fingers inside me And you took me apart

You're the woman who made me who I am Everything I've got I got it from you
