

Millennias have come to pass, an aging mystery was formed in glass

A man encased by depravity, has become a God of iniquity

Skies divide, looming the earthly demise inside

Violence brewing in time disguised as a decree for the blind contrived

Breaking your will from the sky x2

I am the infinite, reframed and operated.

I'm christened by a power that was abhorred

I am the infinite

Skies divide, looming the earthly demise inside

Violence brewing in time disguised as a decree for the blind contrived

Breaking your will from the sky

The miserable portrait of a man weeping a thousand tears fills the air

The visage bears eternal condemnation

Their eyes are open, they will never see

My face.
