The Bronx

Stand still for a second man
You're shaking like a leaf
Get yourself together
Or you're gonna have to leave

I can't feel nothing no more
That must mean you're cured
Can't tell the roof from the floor

If I fall asleep tonight
I will dream in black and white
If I wake up tomorrow
Will someone just let me know

Pack your bags, you're heading home
Nothing changed, you're still alone
Laugh at something beautiful
Now you are invisible

I'm outta body all the time
Side effects control my mind

I can't feel nothing no more
So that must mean you're cured
Can't tell the roof from the floor

If I fall asleep tonight
I will dream in black and white
If I wake up tomorrow
Will someone just let me know
