

Off The Lawn

The Brook & The Bluff

Avalon, off the lawn
Three steps and I'm gone
I never think about what went wrong
(I never think about you at all)
Oh my God, how I'd fall
Right into your arms
I'm stepping over what went wrong
Three steps and I'm gone

Every lonely hour you spend in there
Lost in every corner of your head
Now I have to start again

Move along, not for long
Two months and I'm on
Your mind again we're spinning to the song -
The one we act like we were never on
And I'm not so strong
I'm falling apart
And like the door handle in my old car
My getting fixed will just remain a thought

Every lonely hour you spend in there
Dusting off the cobwebs in your head
Now I have to start again

(I have to, I want to
I don't think that-
I need you)

Lost in every corner of your head
Now I have to start again

(I have to, I want to
I don't think that-
I need you)
