Breaking Point

The Browning

Short-lived happiness is not worth the pain
You will remember everything the next day
Deep in a bottle all your feelings regress
Just for a feeling that you know you will regret

You live a life of regret
Life of regret

You will never outrun your problems
They will always catch up to you
Stay strong
There's only one way you can solve your problems
Facing them is all you can do
Stay strong
Before you've lost it all

You did this to yourself
So you won't feel anything
You can't control yourself
Now you don't feel anything

Your breaking point is approaching fast
How long did you think that this could last?
Deep in a bottle your emotions remain
You've gone insane
This is your breaking point
This is your breaking point

You will never outrun your problems
They will always catch up to you
Stay strong
There's only one way you can solve your problems
Facing them is all you can do
Stay strong
Before you've lost it all

Now you have lost it all
Now you have lost yourself
