

I can see the walls caving in
My patience is growing thin
Broken ties, empty lies, I can see it in their eyes
I want none of them around me
You can't get away with everything
You can't keep on lying
Lose your pride, close your eyes,
And look inside
Then maybe you can realize

Take me back to a time when I had hope
So I would never let it go
I lost sight of the light stuck in the cold
All alone, all alone
Take me back to when I had hope
I lost sight of the light stuck in the cold
All alone, all alone

I can't stand these people that surround me
Mindless fools who want everything
Never try, always lie, I can see it in their eyes
I want nothing to do with you
Lose your pride, close your eyes
And look inside
Then maybe you can realize

Real eyes realize real lies
Take me back to a time when I had hope
So I would never let it go
I lost sight of the light stuck in the cold
All alone, all alone
Take me back to when I had hope
I lost sight of the light stuck in the cold
All alone, all alone

Fight, fight, fight
The endless night

Every day I see the end
The sunlight is dim
But I fight
I walk blind in the endless night

Take me back to when I had hope
I lost sight of the light stuck in the cold
All alone
I'm all alone

Take me back to when I had hope
