

Fifth Kind

The Browning

I will be here waiting, watching life go by
You left me high and dry and I wonder why
I'm still waiting, to see with my own eyes
The light that will change my life

You don't know the suffering inside me
Suffering
I don't need your light to guide me
I will find my own way

I will not fall into the light
I will not fall into the light
I will not fall
Go away and take my sanity
Go away and take my sanity

You don't know the suffering inside me
Suffering
I don't need your light to guide me
I will find my own way
I will find my own way to the light
I will find the fifth kind

Tell me what's at the end for me
I'll be too blind to see

Tell me what's at the end for me
