The Browning

No more silence from me
No more holding back
I am no longer afraid

Silence will not protect you from judgment
So let your voice be heard (be heard) by the world

There is a battle inside me
I know that only one side can win
I left my words behind me
Silence is the greatest sin

Be the voice of the voiceless

No more silence from me
No more holding back
I am no longer afraid

No more silence
No more silence

Look me in the eyes and tell me that I'm worthless
I have nothing left to lose
Look me in the eyes and tell me that I'm hopeless
I have nothing to prove to you

I held all the rage inside me for far too long
I can't leave my past behind
But I still know right from wrong

Be the voice of the voiceless (voiceless, voiceless, voiceless)

Look me in the eyes and tell me that I'm worthless
