

Time Will Tell

The Browning

Time is running out
You need to take a chance
Live your life with no regrets
Lost time is gone forever
So make every second count
Only you can decide how not to waste your time on useless things
Only time will tell how long you have before you waste away
Only you can decide which is the right path you will live your life
Only time will tell if you will chase your dreams or let them die

Time will not stand still for you
If you give up
You're as good as dead
Time is running out
Death is calling your name
