

Tell The Truth

The Bunny the Bear

I couldn't tell the truth if I wanted to
I couldn't tell the truth if I wanted to
I couldn't tell the truth if I wanted to
Wanted to

It's so sad to see, you're working me over, oh Lord, again
So glad to be partially sober, I lost a mighty friend
Can I compete with the man that I promised you, you tried so hard to
Don't tell me who I was or who I want to be, until we meet again

I can't tell the truth, my love
When you came into white lies
Does it hurt inside
To know that I'll be there forever
And today I'm in fight
Till I die if that's what it takes
But for now I'm alive
You're [?]

I couldn't tell the truth if I wanted to
I couldn't tell the truth if I wanted to
I couldn't tell the truth if I wanted to
Wanted to, to

I've thrown ambition to the fire, all melted away
You let your promises expire, [?]
You'll never hear the end of this

I can't tell the truth, my love
When you came into white lies
Does it hurt inside
To know that I'll be there forever
And today I'm in fight
Till I die if that's what it takes
But for now I'm alive
You're [?]

Desired moments that I feel [?]
[?]
Desired moments that I feel your hand fade away
Desired moments that I wish you had fucking stayed
Desired moments that I wish [?] closed down
Desired moments that I wish [?]
Desired moments where I wish we'd ask each other [?]
[?] without you
