

Runaway

The Cactus Blossoms

All along you were a runaway
Should have known it from the start
Voices in my head once or twice had said
Don't give away your heart

I believed you when you used to say
That your ramblin' days were done
I was taken in by what could have been
You were longing for another night on the run

Have you found another fool
To do anything for you?
Will you ever see what you did to me?
Won't get you very far

I'm not chasing anyone today
Can't run another mile
When we started out, didn't have a doubt
I could keep up with a runaway for a while

You're just a runaway, runaway
Runaway to me now
