

Confession

The Call

This is my confession
This is from the soul
This is my confession
This is from the soul

I never meant to hurt you
I would rather die
I never meant to hurt you
I would rather die than hurt you

This is my confession
This is from the soul
This is my confession
This is from the soul

This is my confession
This is from the soul
This is my confession
This is from the soul

I'm sorry if I failed you
I would rather die
I never meant to fail you
I would rather die than fail you

This is my confession
This is from the soul
This is my confession
This is from the soul

What is there left to say?
What is there left to show?
What is there left than faith?
What is there left than love?

This is my confession
This is from the soul
This is my confession
This is from the soul

I never meant to shame you
I would rather die
I never meant to shame you
I would rather die than shame you

This is my confession
This is from the soul
This is my confession
This is from the soul