

Right Between The Eyes

The Call

Every day it gets harder to take
Every day it gets harder to feel
My poor mind gets harder to fake
What's right? What's real?

That's hate that has to pull you under
When the truth gets so harder to pay
When it rolls in your head like thunder
Where's peace? Where's grace?

Well
I never saw it coming
Such a complete surprise
I never saw it coming
It hit me right between the eyes

In an image only man can measure
Hard thought is all so defined
In a world with just no color
See the pain in your mother's eyes
Eyes

Well
I never saw it coming
Such a complete surprise
I never saw it coming
It hit me right between the eyes

You can't pretend the pain don't hurt you
When you want to crawl deep inside
You start feeling there's no tomorrow
You start feeling like you just might die
You just might die

Well
I never saw it coming
Such a complete surprise
I never saw it coming
It hit me right between the eyes
