

You Wear Those Eyes

The Cars

You wear those eyes that never blink you always were the missing link you paint your mouth, you let me know you really are the only show

Just take your time
'cause it's not too late I'll be your mirror so you won't hesitate I'm easy to be found whenever you come down

You got that walk, you do the stroll you make me lose my ground control you got that look I can't resist like something missing, never kissed you do the pogo without the bounce you got the name I can't pronounce you fall in love like the sting you make believe it's everything
