

It Feels Like Crying

The Cats

All my life I've been awaitin' someone like you
Someone to care for, someone to see me true
And all of the time I keep yearnin' for your sweet care
For the warmth for your embrace, your tenderness

No-one compares to you
Nobody I've ever known
Since you turned your back on me, baby
It's been a long time ago now

I lost count of the years and the tears
I've been cryin' about you
But it's a cruel world, yes, I know

But what can I do, I just need somebody
A shoulder to cry my tears upon, someone to comfort me
While troubles linger on, and every time my heart skips a beat
When you pass me by without even noticing me

It feels like cryin', it feels like cryin'
Cryin', cryin', it feels like cryin'

No-one compares to you
Nobody I've ever known
Since you turned your back on me, baby
It's been a long time ago now

It didn't work out well, but heaven can tell
When we try it again maybe things have changed
I made my mistakes but that was then
I just need somebody, a shoulder to cry my tears upon

Someone to comfort me while troubles linger on
And everytime you pass me by my heart skips a beat
It makes me feel so weak inside, and I

I feel like cryin', I feel like cryin'
Cryin', cryin', I feel like cryin'
Ooohooo, cryin', it feels like cryin'
Heaven can tell, like cryin'

You know it feels like cryin'
