

No Reason At All

The Cats

Ever since I went away I got troubles on my mind
I wonder how long it will last
This emptiness burning deep down inside
Well, I guess I'm unable to forget the past

And all of the good times that we both share
Memories you can't wash away like soap
Now there's only one remedy when I'm in despair
That's to hold on to the last sparkle of hope

And there's no real good reason, no reason at all
Nothing can keep us apart
And there's no real good reason, no real good reason
'Cause I love you straight from my heart

There's no reason at all why we should stay apart
There's no reason at all why we should stay apart

So if not tomorrow, then maybe next week
I'm gonna be back right where you are
And in the small hours, I got promises to keep
I'm gonna write you a love song while you're fast asleep

And there's no real good reason, o reason at all
Nothing can keep us apart
And there's no real good reason, no real good reason
Cause I love you straight from my heart

There's no reason at all why we should stay apart
There's no reason at all why we should stay apart
