

Trying To Explain

The Cats

There'll be a time that You'll find me gone
There'll be a time and you know
Though I can say there is No one but you
There'll be a time I'll have to go
Oh oh I'll have to go

I wish that you would try
To find a way to change Your way of living cause I know I didn't find it yet but I did try to change You've got to take me as I am Oh oh for what I am

How can I try to explain That I really wanna stay Never tell me I'm to blame
Cause I know we are not the same

Can't you understand That I always try to keep us together
No I don't want our world to break down
And I don't pretend When I'm saying we could grow better
Let's us start again, it's worthwhile trying Trying
