The Chain Gang of 1974

I know you run towards the velvet sky
Always tempted by what's behind
Always happy with something you know isn't me
But I guess that is you
So goodbye
You gave it all up for cloudy days
All the rains made me go insane
Never thought I would say this
But I wasted time
And it's not alright

You don't love me anymore
You don't love me anymore

Rest your head now, I think I'll leave
There are stories inside these sheets
What do I do now that I have built up this dream?
It is what it seems
State-side, I tried to keep it clean and honest
Why would you say that nothing was a promise
Naked, spun out, I'm sorry I'm not famous
Not your greatest, oh

You don't love me anymore
I can see it in your eyes
I can tell by the lies
You don't love me anymore
I can see it in your eyes
I can tell by the lies, lies, lies
Lies, lies, lies

My love, my love
You're always messing with my love, my love
Stop messing with my love, my love
You're always fucking with my love, my love, oh

You don't love me anymore
I can see it in your eyes
I can tell by the lies
You don't love me anymore
I can see it in your eyes
I can tell by the lies
You don't love me anymore
I can see it in your eyes
I can tell by the lies
You don't love me anymore
I can see it in your eyes
I can tell by the lies

You don't love me anymore
You don't love me anymore
