High

The Chainsmokers

Whoa, whoa
So far, so good
Mhmm, mhm, mhm, yep

Why? You'll only say you love me when you're high
It's like we go through the same shit every night
Oh why, oh why?
You always swear that it's gonna change, but it never does
Why? You'll only say you love me when you're high
It's like we go through the same shit every night
Oh why, oh why?
You always swear that shit's gonna change, but it never does

Tell me that you're gonna change then act like this instead
I'm too old to want somebody who's always switching up their friends
I can't make you love me but at least you could pretend
Scrips gonna lead to fifths until I'm fucked out of my head

You play the same old songs
I know that you're different in your Air Force Ones
Filling my prescription, I could bite your tongue
Like I got an addiction, yeah
You always say this shit's gonna change, but it never does

Why? You'll only say you love me when you're high
It's like we go through the same shit every night
Oh why, oh why?
You always swear that it's gonna change, but it never does
Why? You'll only say you love me when you're high
It's like we go through the same shit every night
Oh why, oh why?
You always swear that shit's gonna change, but it never does

I know it's my fault, I pick up your phone calls
When it's half past one and you're halfway drunk
You say you love me and it sounds so dumb
But truly you're the only one I can't run away from

The same old songs
I know that you're different in your Air Force Ones
Filling my prescription I could bite your tongue
Like I got an addiction, yeah
You always say this shit's gonna change, but it never does

Why? You'll only say you love me when you're high
It's like we go through the same shit every night
Oh why, oh why?
You always swear that it's gonna change, but it never does
Why? You'll only say you love me when you're high
It's like we go through the same shit every night
Oh why, oh why?
You always swear that shit's gonna change, but it never does

You always swear that shit's gonna change, but it never does
