

Green Waters

The Chant

Where is a world awaiting?
Still walking these streets wide awake
But dreaming...
It's a reality fading
When taking a swim in an ice cold lake
So we're dreaming and dreaming

Light our way dear Evelyn
'Cause deep in green waters we're drowning
And if we find our way to somewhere safe
So deep in green waters we're dreaming and dreaming

Green waters await...

Where is an end awaiting?
Still dreaming our dreams wide awake
When drowning...
It's a reality fading
When sinking into an ice cold lake
So we're dreaming of drowning

Green waters await, so drown...

And drowning here...
I'm dreaming here of drowning here
Green waters await!
