

Too Good To Be Forgotten

The Chi-Lites

Too good to be forgotten
Too good to be forgotten

Maybelline was a girl I met while walking home one day
She made me forget my marbles
She said she had another game to play
One thing led to another
Now what more can I say?
Just one of the reasons why I got her by my side today

She was too good to be forgotten
Now what more can I say?
Too good to be forgotten, no
I'll never let her get away
One in a million people
Shout it from the highest steeple
She's just one of the few
Got my mind, got my life wrapped up in love

Well, her hair was shiny, Long and black
It smelled so sweet and bright
I thought of her and dreamed of her all night after night
I love the ground she walks on
The very air she breathes
I ain't never gonna leave her 'cause I am as happy as I can be

She's just too good to be forgotten
Now what more can I say?
Too good to be forgotten
I'll never let her get away
One in a million people
Shout it from the highest steeple
She's just one of the few
Got my mind, got my life wrapped up in love

She was too good to be forgotten
Now what more can I say?
Too good to be forgotten, no
I'll never let her get away
Too good to be forgotten
That's all that I can say
Too good to be forgotten, no
I'll never let her get away
Too good to be forgotten
Now what more can I say?
Fifty million reasons why
I'll never let her get away
Too good to be forgotten
Now what more can I say?
Too good to be forgotten, no
I'll never let her get away
