

Ain't Seen Nothing Yet

The Chisel

Mr. politician, tell me what you choose
This country's people, or the bottom line?
I won't take your word, it's all fucking lies
And we know you'll never get it right
Never had my trust and we've had enough
I wanna hear that fucking battle cry
With it all to lose, what you gonna do?
Now the people start to question why

You could say something but you ain't saying nothing
Ain't seen nothing yet
You could say something but you ain't saying nothing
You ain't seen nothing yet
Don't care who, it's nothing new
This is my song for you

I could walk a mile, in your shoes
I don't need that to know I'm not like you
Talk about plight, don't compare your shite
With a life on the building site
Watch the bridges fall, I say demolish it all
I'll take that bolster to the fucking wall
I'm not talking about construction, boys
But I will use a similar tool

You could say something but you ain't saying nothing
Ain't seen nothing yet
You could say something but you ain't saying nothing
Ain't seen nothing yet
You could say something but you ain't saying nothing
Ain't seen nothing yet
Don't care who, it's nothing new
This is my song for you

You say nothing
You say nothing at all
You say nothing
You say nothing at all
You say nothing
You say nothing at all
You say nothing
You say nothing at all

You could say something but you ain't saying nothing
You ain't seen nothing yet
You could say something but you ain't saying nothing
You ain't seen nothing yet
You could say something but you ain't saying nothing
You ain't seen nothing yet
Don't care who, it's nothing new
This is my song for you

You say nothing
You say nothing at all
You say nothing
You say nothing at all
You say nothing

You say nothing at all
You say nothing
You say nothing at all
You say nothing
You say nothing at all
You say nothing
