

Dreams

The Choir

Lately I've been thinkin' About how it used to be When life was full of promise And love was fantasy They tell me that the hur t will fade But it just won't go away I tried so hard to see th e sun But everything is gray

There was a time I trusted you To help me bear the pain But I l ook out my window now And all I see is rain If only I could tur n back time To my dreams of yesterday If only I could stay a ch ild And trust in you that way

All my dreams are falling down
