

Roses

The Clarks

My shoes are tied
You can walk where you like
But you stay right there
So close to that knife

Your hands are tied
Did you do it yourself
The door's not locked
You should run like hell

But the floor's like quicksand
That you're sinking

Roses never make the scars go away
Roses never make
Sorry always buys one more day
One more day

Damn this life
This apology world
When you stand by a man
You never understood

But you keep that tear stain love
And a thickened skin

Roses never make the scars go away
Roses never make
Sorry always buys one more day
One more day

And that sad song plays
As the crows fly in
I'm staring at your house
Where no one lives

Roses never make the scars go away
Roses never make
Sorry always buys one more day
One more day

Roses never make the scars go away
Roses never make
Sorry always buys one more day
One more day
