

Beyond the Walls of Tears

The Claymore

Lying on your grave tonight - Trapped within my sorrow
Staring to the stars above - Drowned in pain and sadness
A little light deep in the dark - The memories remain unheard
I miss the beauty of your eyes - The window to your soul

Between the beauty and the sadness
I will wait for you
Between the darkness and the light
I will hold your hand forever

Beyond the walls of tears - I'll never feel your body next to mine
Beyond the walls of tears - I'll never see the beauty of your smile
Beyond the walls of tears - I'll never feel your lips on my skin
Beyond the walls of tears - I'll never hear your voice, calling my name

Why couldn't I protect your life? - Why couldn't I prevent?
Lost your spirit in the flood - Never coming back again
Bleeding heart and wounded soul - My destiny is waiting here

Between the beauty and the sadness...

Beyond the walls of tears - I'll never feel your body next to mine...
