He watches every move she makes
He follows every step she takes
He tracks her down on the way to school
He comes on strong but she plays cool
She wants to get her homework done
He wants to go and-uh have some fun

The Snake caught the Bookworm one fine day
And he wouldn't let her get away
He coiled his arms around her waist
And her sweet lips he tried to taste
She said, "I hear the school bells chime"
He said-a, "Baby, just-ah one more time"
