

Soho Waltz

The Common Linnets

No you can't save everything
No you can't rewind the clock
Cause not everything, not every pain stops

She keeps some of the scars
Locked away in her heart
Not all of them, not all of them are

Give me some of that hurt
Give me some of your pain
Give me some of those tears you hide away
Give me something real
I don't mind the cost
Something I can save before it's lost
Cause not everything, not every pain stops

Leave your coat by the door
Never mind where you've been
Not every road to everywhere and everything ends

Give me some of that hurt
Give me some of your pain
Give me some of those tears you hide away
Give me something real
I don't mind the cost
Something I can save before it's lost
Cause not everything, not every pain stops
