

Say Something New

The Concretes

What a strange thing to say
As you pass me
On your way out
And all the things
I had in mind for you and me
Well, say something new
Well, say something new
Something new
What a strange thing to do
As you passed me
On your way out, your way out
And all the things
I had in mind for you and me
Well, say something new
Well, something new
Something new
But something you do
But something you do
Something you do
Well, say something new
Well, something new
Something new
But something you do
But something you do
Something you do
Say something new
Say something new
About you, about you, about you
