

Mirrors

The Confession

Do you feel the world you have left is crumbling awake till the sun comes up. asleep till the sun goes down
Your skin will turn to a pale shade of grey
Shadows of doubt consume, forever seems so fake

Don't try and believe you'll live forever
I try to scream at you
Get ready for a ride with no fucking turning back
Look at yourself in the mirror tonight
Pail face black eyes
Your lips are turning blue
Your pulse is now lost forever

Things can never be the same again
Do you feel your life is crashing down
Bet you never been so cold it doesn't get any lower than this Can't live can't breath

Defeated, and broken
Your future is fucking lost

You're running scared
You're falling down with a sickness
You cant just burn away at your mistakes
Your skin will turn to a pale shade of grey
Shadows of doubt consume, forever seems so fake your place here is dead
And your future is plagued by a baren past

Now fall asleep tonight, Feeling cold, No place to go
Now go down with your sinking ship, no ocean left
