

Laughing Eyes

The Coral

Once, your world was young
You sang to me
Songs left unsung
There you go again
Your laughing eyes

Old ribbons and lace
Keeping your hair
Out of your face
There you go again
Your laughing eyes

And no one can take it away
No, no one can take it away
From me

On our way back home
I held your hand
Through meadows of stone
There you go again
Your laughing eyes

Down by the apple tree
That's where you made
A fool out of me
There you go again
Your laughing eyes

And no one can take it away
No, no one can take it away
From me

Once, your world was young
You sang to me
There you go again
Oh, there you go again
There you go again
Oh, there you go again
Your laughing eyes
Your laughing eyes
