Gut Feeling

The Coronas

How could you say that you want me to change
When I've already tried?
Is that why you said that with a smile?

And it wasn't like I even needed reminding
Of all my mistakes
How could you keep your face so straight?

I suppose it's fine that you're not around
Cos I know deep down I can ride it out
When you overthink everything you're doing
You don't need me to talk you through it

Don't complicate it
You might be already right
Sometimes it's just too easy
To let a gut feeling go by
And you should already know
You hesitated despite
Of all the advice
When you find a gut feeling
Make sure you don't leave it behind

And you stay so deliberately vague
You never say what you mean
How could you speak that way to me?
And you should already know

It really reminds me
Of one of those times
When you just wanna sleep

Once you got out
We couldn't get you to leave

I suppose it's fine that you're not around
Cos I know deep down I can ride it out
And I'll try, I'll try to pull myself together
I just can't seem to make things better

Don't complicate it
You might be already right
Sometimes it's just too easy
To let a gut feeling go by
And you should already know
You hesitated despite
Of all the advice
When you find a gut feeling
Make sure you don't leave it behind

Cos it just can't wait no

I just can't get a hold of it

Don't complicate it
You might be already right
Sometimes it's just too easy

To let a gut feeling go by
Oh oh, you should already know

That I just can't get a hold of it
Oh cos it just can't wait
And I just can't get a hold of it
