

Who We Are

The Coronas

Everything changes with you
Yeah we're quite alike
It just takes ages with you
But it's always worthwhile

Please don't say we're too alike
And please don't say it's not worthwhile

I'm too protective of you
Yeah I should let you grow
Disconnected from you
I'm just a little too cold

I know myself, I try too hard
Forgot how this could leave a mark
The pieces fell and they broke apart
Finally see just who we are
Finally see just who we are

No I can't relate to changes that you made
I stuck around and I wouldn't have it any other way
And if space is what it takes, well then great
Well then great

I know myself, I try too hard
Forgot how this could leave a mark
The pieces fell and they broke apart
Finally see just who we are
Finally see just who we are

And still I can't relate to changes you've made
And if space is what it takes, well then great
Oh

I know myself, I try too hard
Forgot how this could leave a mark
The pieces fell and they broke apart
Finally see just who we are
Finally see just who we are
