

Oh What a Thing

The Crash

Is now time to say the goodbyes and the thank yous?
Is now the time to fade into the bluest of the blue blues?
And oh, it'll feel bad for a while, they say (That's what they say)
And the worst night is the first night alone, oh

Oh what a thing, oh what a thing we had; everything. See?
Oh what a thing! (Oh what a thing!)
Nothing was wrong, no, till you were gone and I was alone

Is now the time to say: "I guess we just ran out of breath"?
Is now the time to say: "Baby, this ain't no matter of life and death"?
But that is not true and I can't lie to you my love
Plus, I ain't talking when you're walking away

Oh what a thing, oh what a thing we had; everything. See?
Oh what a thing! (Oh what a thing!)
Nothing was wrong, no, till you were gone and I was alone

Oh, tell me, was it too much of a good thing, baby?
Oh, I would do the same mistakes
Or did you had enough of the perfection maybe?
Oh, I would do it all over again

Because, oh what a thing, oh what a thing we had; everything. See?
Oh what a thing! (Oh what a thing!)
Nothing was wrong, no, till you were gone, till you were gone
So, baby, so long, oh. I love you
