

Something Special

The Cyrkle

Put on your make up, girl, you have to look right, now
Put on your dress, and it had better be tight, now
For today's another day in your young life
With another routine job that you have to do
But this job might be a little different
Might turn out to be something special for you

Shuffle your body, girl, and walk on the floor, dear
Don't let them see the work that you did before, dear
If you smile and do the right thing, you're okay
Just as long as no one really knows what you do
But this job might be a little different
Might turn out to be something special for you

Play the game, you're out to get them
No mistakes 'cause if you let them
Find you out then you might get hurt
Let your hair down, make the best skirt
Girl, this is your day
Don't get caught in the squeeze play

Put on your make up, girl, you have to look right, now
Put on your dress, and it had better be tight, now
For today's another day in your young life
With another routine job that you have to do
But this job might be a little different
Might turn out to be something special for Something special for, something special for you

Something special for you
Something special for you
