

I've Got You

The Damnells

I've got doubts I can't even count
I've got mirrors that take me apart
I've got blues mounting revolt
I've got songs that stall when I start

But I've got you babe
Diamonds and pearls babe
I've got you girl
That's all I need

I've got rackets from Brooklyn to Gaul
I've got nightmares about waking up
I've got senators I never consult
I've got a wintering heart in a lead cup

But I've got you babe
More than a feeling babe
I've got you girl
That's all I need

I've got black bones wrinkling
I've got walls and walls
And walls
I've got friends I only insult
I've got so many people that I need to call

But I've got you babe
Radar love babe
I've got you babe
I want you to want me babe
I've got you girl
That's all I need

I've got symbols and idols everywhere
I've got new good news and a family disease
I've got true things that come back corrupt
I've got bad manners
I never say please

But I've got you babe
Don't stop believing babe
I've got you babe
Kickstart my heart babe
I've got you babe
Sweet child of mine babe
I've got you babe
Wanna be starting something babe

I've got you babe
I've got you babe
I've got you babe
I've got you babe
