

Who Does He Think He Is

The Dave Clark Five

Who does he think he is knocking on your door everynight
He's only jealous 'cause he knows that I'm holding you tight

He wants you for his very own
And won't be satisfied 'till I'm alone and we're apart

Since he's been around he's been trying to make you see
That he really loves you and he wants you to walk out on me

Don't believe a word that he may say
He's only trying to make you regret the day that we met

Please, don't call sweet pain
by calling his name
When you know
You should be calling mine

Who does he think he is knocking on your door everynight
He's only jealous 'cause he knows that I'm holding you tight

He wants you for his very own
And won't be satisfied 'till I'm alone and we're apart

Please, don't call sweet pain
by calling his name
When you know
You should be calling mine
