

How Does It Feel

The Dead Daisies

You looked me in the eye
With an alligator smile
Told me, everything is alright

I see through it all
Your back's against the wall
This time you ain't worth the fight

How does it feel now
Never knew you were going down
Funny how it comes around
How does it feel now
Living in the lost and found
How does it feel now

Don't look so surprised
Too late to deny
I see the lies on your face

Can't choose how it's served
You got what you deserve
Right now how bad does it taste

How does it feel now
Never knew you were going down
Funny how it comes around
How does it feel now
Living in the lost and found
How does it feel now

Bought a ticket to the other side
And you really shouldn't be surprised
Now you better open up your eyes
Getting ready for a one-way ride
