

Redefined

The Dead Rabbits

Sick of the lies
I paid the price
Traded my soul
An eye for an eye
I made a deal
They gave me a plea
Begging for mercy
But they want no peace

Lean on me just a little bit closer (a little bit closer)
Don't tell me that this is over (that this is over)

If I could hold
My peace of mind
If death could only be something
Something we could rewind
I thought there'd be more to life
If I could hold
My peace of mind
I thought I'd find some happiness
But it's just a waste of time
This is my life redefined

Is this a waste of time
Redefined

Stuck in my ways
Lost in the maze
Drop like a rat that just quit the race
Misery comes
Sanity leaves
I pray to God
But he doesn't speak
Lost and alone
With nowhere to go
I keep on knocking
But no one is home
When will this end
My dearest friend
I left a note
And swallowed the pen

Lean on me just a little bit closer (a little bit closer)
Don't tell me that this is over (that this is over)

If I could hold
My peace of mind
If death could only be something
Something we could rewind
I thought there'd be more to life
If I could hold
My peace of mind
I thought I'd find some happiness
But it's just a waste of time
This is my life redefined

No peace

No mercy
No peace
No sympathy
This chapter may be unrefined
I'll write my story life redefined

If I could hold
My peace of mind
If death could only be something
Something we could rewind
I thought there'd be more to life
If I could hold
My peace of mind
I thought I'd find some happiness
But it's just a waste of time
This is my life redefined (redefined)
