

Woke up this morning, but I can't rise
The weight on my chest, the heaviness in my eyes, my eyes
I feel the sun's warmth, can't reach my soul
Trapped in this bed where I have lost control, control

I want to stand to break free from these chains
But something inside me keeps pulling back again
The world keeps turning but I'm stuck in place
Searching for strength in this empty space
Keeps me trapped in my head

My heart is heavy, my spirit low
Every step I want to take, the pain starts to grow
Can't reach my soul, trapped in the bed where I have lost control, control

I want to stand to break free from these chains
But something inside me keeps pulling back again
The world keeps turning but I'm stuck in place
Searching for strength in this empty space
Keeps me trapped in my head

Wake me up
Wake me up
Wake me up
Wake me up
Wake me up
Wake me up (awake me)

God grant me the serenity to accept the things that I cannot change
The courage to change the things that I can
And the wisdom to know the difference

I want to stand to break free from these chains
But something inside me keeps pulling back again
The world keeps turning but I'm stuck in place
Searching for strength in this empty space
Keeps me trapped in my head (keeps me trapped in my head)

I want to stand to break free from these chains
But something inside me keeps pulling back again
The world keeps turning but I'm stuck in place
Searching for strength in this empty space
Keeps me trapped in my head (keeps me trapped in my head)

Wake me up
Wake me up
Wake me up
Wake me up
Wake me up
Wake me up
