Like Crazy

The Dear Hunter

Give me a sign that something is going to change before too lon g.
Turn on the light, this tunnel is far too dim to carry on.

And though it hurts to be alone, I just don't know anymore.
If it's worth the hurt to the feel this way.

It takes so much to see you smile, lately.
It's driving me up the walls, so don't ask why I'm crazy,
This crutch is slowin' to a crawl.

Boy you're a fool for thinkin' I would change before too long.
I've got things to do, that have nothin' to do with you
I heard you cry yourself to sleep, and no man is fit to keep,
I want to live big, and keep himself together.

It takes so much to see you smile, lately.
It's driving me up the walls, so don't ask why I'm crazy,
This crutch is slowin' to a crawl.

And there's a place that I go, when I feel, that we, are lost c ompletely.
To the end of the world, staring off the edge with my reflectio n.
Staring back, keepin' me from reaching out.

Out to you, to you.

And though it hurts to be alone, I just don't know anymore.
If it's worth the hurt to the feel this way.

It takes so much to see you smile, lately.
It's driving me up the walls, so don't ask if I'm like crazy,
This crush is slowin' to a crawl.

Cut me through completely, from giving up on it all.
