The Devil Wears Prada

Hell is a real place
When I'm running at an artificial pace
Keep losing sight of what I love
And end up right back where I was
Can't get ahead of my conscience

Force me to abide
I ask for answers, but still you won't provide
Hasn't it all been enough?
Calling out with bitter tongues
How is this what I've become?

And my hands start shaking again and again
And it's all happening again and again
And the lights start fading again and again
I remember everything

Give me eyes - let me realize
That heaven's been cheating the hell outta me
Gotta see to believe it
Give me eyes

Face down in a pool of insecurity
I thought had control
The pressure's violent in my ears
I wish for clarity that's real
But I won't hear it from down here

And my hands start shaking again and again
And it's all happening again and again
And the lights start fading again and again
I remember everything

Give me eyes - let me realize
That heaven's been cheating the hell outta me
Gotta see to believe it
Give me eyes

Give me eyes - let me realize
That heaven's been cheating the hell outta me

Tell me why
I can't realize
That heaven's been cheating the hell outta me

Give me eyes - let me realize
That heaven's been cheating the hell outta me
Gotta see to believe it
Give me eyes

Heaven's been cheating the hell outta me
Heaven's been cheating the hell outta me
