

Don't Let It Break Your Heart

The Devlins

Autumn leaves falling like memories stalling in your head
This pain you're feeling, your way of dealing with the past
It's complicated, he lead you on and then he let you down

Don't let it break your heart
Don't let it break your heart
Don't let it tear you apart, just bruises and scars they heal

Some of these guys they wanna paint a target on your head
Love you all up and leave you dying left for dead
But then somebody will play the right song and you'll dance aga in

So Don't let it break your heart
Don't let it break your heart
Don't let tear you apart, just bruises and scars they heal
Don't let it break your heart

And the computer adds up the numbers and it says
If you're so lonely why don't you find somebody else
Not complicated, it's kind of simple it's just one on one

Don't let it break your heart
Don't let it break your heart
Don't let tear you apart, just bruises and scars they heal
So Don't let it break your heart
Don't let it break your heart
Don't let it break your heart
