

Paranoia Shields

The Dillinger Escape Plan

You will never find anything like a forest in search of its trees you will never gain anything take a bullet to kill a wet dream

I will always be anything like a shadow inside of a cave I can never give anything break a sweat just to have some relief you were always revolting me like an echo held up to my face you were always in search of me takes a second to find what you seek

I will never give anything
break a sweat just to have some relief
I will always be everything
like a shadow inside of a cave

I feel you close, heating up my coals but there isn't a hell that I would burn on with you death brings us close, isn't that morose?
but there isn't a fire that I would waste to burn you we are both just a fantasy won't you please keep imagining me you've become such a piece of me always were work that I couldn't see I will never give anything

break a sweat just to have some relief
I will always be everything
like a shadow inside of a cave

I feel you close, heating up my coals
but there isn't a hell that I would burn on with you
death brings us close, isn't that morose?
but there isn't a fire that I would waste to burn you

I'll be with you when you die always by your side holding onto nights how'd we let this go so far cause I don't know where we are bring it back to life

I'll be with you when you die
always by your side holding onto nights we'll try to hold the earth still how'd we ever get this far cause I don't know where we are bring it back to my beginning your beginning

I could just go to sleep but I wanna scream I'd wake you up but then you'd see what I mean

I've manifested you in fever daydream

I feel you close, heating up my coals but there is a hell that I would burn on with you death brings us close, isn't that morose?
but there is a fire that I would waste to burn you