

Midnight Control

The Dirty Heads

She's a midnight control
When she takes hold
She won't let go
Hey
All night and day
She keeps me awake
Adrenaline

I know she only really good in moderation
But she got a way of giving me that motivation
Feel the gravity that's pulling me to her location

She tells me I don't ever need an invitation
I don't know the way but I know she the destination
We can come together for some moonlight meditation

So tangled up in your love
So lost inside of your world
Eyes they lock together
Our hearts are meant to be cured
I can't handle the pressure
I can't handle the pressure
She takes all that she wants
And I let her

She's a midnight control
When she takes hold
She won't let go
Hey
All night and day
She keeps me awake
Adrenaline

Ya every time she comes around I swear I smell black roses
The way she got me feeling now is like too many doses
It's like a game the way she plays around with my emotions
I tried to leave before but all of those attempts were hopeless

Her eyes on me
The darkest green
They say "Don't leave"
I feel the pressure
I get my fix
She gets her kicks
Sometimes I wish I never met her

So tangled up in your love
So lost inside of your world
Eyes they lock together
Our hearts are meant to be cured
I can't handle the pressure
I can't handle the pressure
She takes all that she wants
And I let her

She's a midnight control
When she takes hold

She won't let go
Hey
All night and day
She keeps me awake
Adrenaline
