

Hero Narrative

The Dirty Nil

Since we split, I've been making it
With my trademark hero narrative
But when I'm all alone at night, well, the veil begins to slide
And out goes the light

I just remembered that I didn't forget about you
I just remembered that I didn't forget about you

Honestly, I've been on a spree
Of manifesting positivity
But history has a way of crawling back to you to say
"I'm here to stay"

I just remembered that I didn't forget about you
I just remembered that I didn't forget about you
Thanks for that, welcome back, make yourself at home
I just remembered that I didn't forget about you

Way out in space
There's a comet with my name
On a collision course with unrelenting force
It slides into a black hole named you
'Cause even if I really try, there's no way I can deny
Even if I really try

I just remembered that I didn't forget about you
I just remembered that I didn't forget about you
