

The Amazon Pirates

The Divine Comedy

Amazons, Amazons, Amazons, Amazons
Amazons, Amazons, Amazons, Amazons
Amazons, Amazons, Amazons, Amazons
Amazons, Amazons, Amazons
This means war!

With only the clouds and a four-bedroom house for shelter
We turn to the lake like a duckling takes to water
Then we took to a life of crime and mindless slaughter, yeah

We're the Amazon Pirates
Amazon Pirates
Amazon Pirates
Amazon Pirates
Amazon Pirates
Amazon Pirates

We [?] and we go looking for trouble on the high seas
In the darkness we go by the stars, she's a Leo, I'm a Pisces
When we go into battle we scream and rattle our sabres
But we don't do our fighting at home 'cause it frightens the neighbours

We're the Amazon Pirates

Amazon Pirates

Amazons, Amazons, Amazons, Amazons
Amazons, Amazons, Amazons, Amazons
Amazons, Amazons, Amazons, Amazons
Amazons, Amazons, Amazons
This means war!

We'll cut out your gizzards with a blunt pair of scissors for starters
Use your skull for a cup and your lily-livered guts for garters
We'll [?] off your ears so while you cast your leer, heed this warning, yeah
You better marshal your defences 'cause battle commences in the morning, yeah
